DNS resolver Best Common Practice Task Force

The Task Force will gather best current practices for the operation of DNS resolvers and work towards producing a recommendation of operational practices that will be available to the RIPE Community and the Internet in a way such that operators may choose to adhere to.

The final document will refer not only to the technical aspects of the operations but will also include best practice recommendations for aspects of data management, in particular with regards to privacy of the users being served and modifications of DNS data. As such the TF is seen as a cooperative initiative of the DNS and Cooperation WG.
